

Call for Research Proposals

Saudi NIH Research Funding Opportunities

Academic Year 2025 – 2026

The Deanship of Research is pleased to inform KFUPM faculty members and researchers that the Saudi NIH has announced new research funding opportunities in the field of infectious diseases. These funding opportunities are intended to support and empower researchers, enhance the quality and impact of health research within the Kingdom, and strengthen the healthcare system's preparedness in addressing national priority health challenges.

Accordingly, all eligible faculty members and researchers are encouraged to apply by submitting their research proposals through the following link: <https://sni.gov.sa/en/fundings/> or via the QR code provided below:

Important Notes:

1. Research proposals must be submitted through the Saudi NIH platform using the link above or via the QR code before the specified submission deadline.
2. A copy of the submitted proposal must also be sent to the Deanship of Research via email ocr@kfupm.edu.sa to ensure the proposal receives the necessary institutional endorsement from KFUPM. Please note that proposals not endorsed by KFUPM will not be processed for funding consideration.
3. For further information or assistance, please send an email to: OCR@kfupm.edu.sa or visit Saudi NIH website (<https://sni.gov.sa>).
